Dear Sir:

On page 2 of the Action of 07/15/02, restriction to one of Group I and Group II was required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

In reply thereto, applicant hereby elects Group II, claims 4-12 to be examined.

However, applicant respectfully traverses the election requirement by the Examiner.

The Action states that Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept because a pair of wrapping connectors of the transporting means, which is the special technical feature of the invention, is included in Group II but not in Group I.

However, although the transporting means is an essential part of the invention, the wrapping connectors are not and therefor, are claimed in dependent claim 8. The transporting means is included in both Groups I and II. Accordingly, applicant believes that Groups I and II relate to the single general inventive concept.
